

DIMENSIONS OF MARKET SHRUNK

Premonitory Symptoms of the Preparation for the July Settlement.

THE OUTLOOK IN ODESSA

It Brought Up the Probability of a Demand on New York for Gold.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK. June 29.—Prices lost some ground on the Stock Exchange to-day, and there was a shrinkage in the dimensions of the market, which had more to do with giving character to it than did the recession in prices. The money market yielded some premonitory symptoms of the preparation for the July settlements. Call loans were reported light even while there was no marked change in the quoted rate, and there was a considerable paying off on the part of borrowers on call.

The grave aspect of internal affairs in Russia and the outbreak of violence in Odessa brought into renewed discussion of the probability of a demand upon New York for gold. There was little change in the local exchange rates. The immediate changes, therefore, were all towards relaxation of the pressure upon New York for gold. News bearing on immediate prospects of a dividend distribution of stocks received close attention. Thus the oilers were prominent to-day for their resistance to the reactionary tendency, the rumors of a further increase in the Reading oil dividend being followed by a showing of May net earnings made by Reading, Ontario and Western and Lehigh Valley.

Assertions that higher dividends were in prospect were influenced by the advance of the Pennsylvania and Northern, Amalgamated Copper and Brooklyn Trust, etc. The Pennsylvania group, however, was subjected to decided pressure on realizing except Norfolk and Western. The same went for the Pacifics and the railroads which had been sharply advanced yesterday. Late efforts towards recovery were defeated by the rise in money rate. Louisville and Nashville broke sharply when only the regular dividend was declared, and the market closed easy at about the lowest of the day.

Bonds were irregular. Total sales, per value, $2,635,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

The total sales of stocks for the day amounted to 635,409 shares.

CHICAGO. June 29.—Internal disorders in Russo stiffened bids in the wheat market to-day. Fresh demand came from the foreign market, and the market was held at 10¢/11¢ per bushel. The market had rallied during the closing figures of yesterday. This was followed by considerable irregularity, but prices soon settled down again, and moved toward the close, when fear of revolutionary developments in Russia added to some uncertainty over the influence of political movements on the market. The market closed at 10¢/11¢ per bushel.

Receipts at the ports to-day were 9,618 bales against 17,115 last week and 4,322 last year. For the week (estimated) 70,000 bales against 77,667 last week and 10,000 last year. Receipts at New Orleans were 2,263 bales against 3,100 last year, and at Houston 901 bales against 41 last year.
